ChariTEES® Helps Disabled Veteran's With A New Product Line

ChariTEES® Launches LiberTEES® To Promote Sale Of American-Made Apparel And Benefit Disabled Veterans

BOCA RATON, Fla. (December 23, 2009) --- ChariTEES®, the nation's recognized supplier of custom printed tee shirts to America's charities and socially conscious corporations is proud to announce the launch of its newest division, LiberTEES®.

LiberTEES® will promote the sale of tee shirts that are sewn, styled, and screen printed in the USA with proceeds donated to Veteran organizations.

These shirts will be distributed through specialty retailers, military outlets and by veterans in their local communities. Schools and organizations will also participate and help raise money for this important cause.

"ChariTEES® is all about giving back," said ChariTEES® Founder & President Jeff Firestone. "With our LiberTEES® trademark, products and desire to help, we're able to focus attention to those wounded veterans who have made the ultimate sacrifice in protecting our freedom."

As Mr. Firestone says "We are helping the communiTEE one tee shirt at a time"
